must be brought at the Registry of the Commercial Court.

Adoption of the memorandum and articles of association

Drafting the memorandum and articles of association of a company is an essential and very important step in the formation of your company. It can have legal and fiscal consequences on the company and it can influence the social status of the company's manager. To proceed to the adoption of the memorandum and articles of association, the following conditions must be fulfilled :

- Draw up the memorandum and articles of association.
- Proceed to the appointment of the directors. The first directors shall be designated in the memorandum and articles of association. The board of directors must then appoint the chairman of the board, the general manager, and, if need be, one or many assistant general managers (up to a maximum of five).
- Proceed to the appointment of the auditors. Two auditors must be designated in the memorandum and articles of association, a permanent auditor and a substitute.
- Deposit the funds constituting the cash contribution in a blocked account. The funds must be deposited either in a finance company located in France, at the Caisse des Dépôts et des Consignations (deposit and consignment office), or at the notary's office. After , the company's registration the company's legal representative will then produce a certificate of incorporation at the RCS in order to release the funds, which may then be transferred to the company's bank account.
- Register the memorandum and articles of association of the company within one month from the signing by all board members, free of charge, with the appropriate tax collector's office nearest the home of one of the partners of nearest the head office of the company. This formality is not required before registration at the RCS.

Standard memorandum and articles of association forms may be bought in specialized and university bookshops.

Publication of the formation of the firm

Contact a newspaper entitled to publish legal notices to announce the creation of your company. The announcement must state the name and legal form of company, the amount of the registered capital, the address of the head office, the purpose of the company (briefly indicated), its duration, the name, first name and home address of the directors, the chairman of the board, the general manager, the assistant general managers, of the members of the executive board, of the members of the supervisory board, of the auditors and of any other persons authorized to bind the company, the conditions to have access to shareholders' meetings and to vote (including the conditions to get a double vote (one vote that is worth two votes), the existence of stipulations concerning the approval ("l'agrément") by the persons transferring some shares and the indication of the body covering applications for approval (if need be), and the RCS with which the company will be incorporated.

N.B. In the event of a purchase or taking into lease management of a business, a legal notice announcing this purchase or taking into lease management shall also be published in an authorized newspaper.

Further steps to be taken

Make sure that the name of the company is clearly indicated on your mailbox, or you will not receive the certificate of incorporation ("Kbis" or "K" extract) that will be sent by the Registry.

In order to comply with the regulations, you must buy the company books (minute books, etc.) and get them stamped and signed by the Registry.
